Tuesday, March 25, 7 - 9 p.m.

117 Stroud Hall

Nobody's Perfect: Private Screening and Q & A with Producer, Derrick Simmons

This must-see movie examines how mistaken love turns into mislaid trust, a web of deceit and domestic violence. A younger woman meets the man of her dreams, falls in love and marries him, and then her dream turns into a nightmare.

Tuesday, March 25, 2 - 3:30 p.m.

Begin at the Quad and end at the University Circle

Warriors Against Sexual Violence March

Participants will march along a route where sexual violence has been reported to have occurred on campus, pinning purple ribbons at stopping points.

Sponsored by Student Senate, the ESU Feminist Alliance, Police, VOICE and Women's Resources of Monroe County. Daring Greatly & The Gifts of Imperfection.

Tuesday, March 25, 6 p.m.

Student Senate Chamber

University Center

Daring Greatly & The Gifts of Imperfection

The themes of courage and vulnerability were the topics of a now famous talk by Dr. Brene Brown. Poignant and funny. Explore what it means to be courageous, why vulnerability is essential, and how we, too, can seek to transform the way we work, learn, play and love. Discussion led by Quianay Bennett, Minsi Hall Director.

Wednesday, March 26, 3 - 4 p.m.

201 Stroud Hall

Why 30 is Not the New 20

Video showing of top psychologist, Dr. Meg Jay, and her notion that 20-somethings are damaging future career and relationships by passively treating the decade as 'down time' before real life begins and believing that they have plenty of time to build their careers and find love later. Facilitated by ESU Director of Career Development, Daria Wielebinski.

Wednesday, March 26, 7 - 8 p.m.

WESS Radio 90.3 FM

Sexual Assault and What ESU Students and Others Need to Know. ESU students La Shondra Cherry and Melenie Rodriguez will interview campus constituents during their weekly radio show, "Heart to Heart."

Wednesday, March 26, 7 - 9 p.m.

117 Stroud Hall

The Invisible War

The 2012 Academy Award nominated documentary explores the hidden issues of sexual assault in the military. By focusing on women and men who have experienced sexual assault while serving their country, the film raises awareness and encourages activism. Open discussion to follow film. NOTE: Triggering scenes and discussions.

Wednesday, March 26, 4:30 - 6:30 p.m.

Art Studio: 1st Floor, Fine Arts Building

ESU's Dinner Party Plate & Placemat Making

Modeled after Judy Chicago's art piece, "The Dinner Party," where she created plates and placemats to honor remarkable women. With the help of professor Darlene Farris-LaBar and other "Dinner Party" alumni, create a plate and placemat and join in on the dinner party where creations are shared and great food, laughter and the company of fabulous women is enjoyed. *RSVP Required. $25 for faculty, staff, administrators. Free for students. To RSVP and receive more information, contact: Andrea McClanahan, Ph.D., Monroe Hall 301, amcclanahan@esu.edu, 570-422-3697.
