

Date: November 13, 2009

Time: 8:30 am– 2:30 pm

NPWP @ ESU presents:

Voice: Motivating Students to Write

A Professional Development Conference Focusing on Increasing Student Academic Achievement in all Grades and Content Areas

Hosted by

NEIU 19

Archbald, PA

Friday, November 13, 2009

8:30-2:30

Cost: 50.00*

Makes checks payable to NPWP

Send registration and checks to address below

Deadline to register: October 30, 2009

Session Highlights

- Forget the Teacher and Become the Teach(ur): A high school teacher negotiates the personal/professional identities teachers face and how it impacted on students' motivation to write.
- Finding Voice in Vocab: Instead of rote memorization, a middle level teacher shows how to motivate students to write and discuss vocabulary in their own voices.
- From Scribble to Sentences in the Elementary Classroom: A teacher of at-risk elementary students blends her love of art and writing to motivate students to develop their own writing voice.

Voice: Motivating Students to Write

November 13, 2009 at NEIU 19

NAME: _____

SCHOOL: _____

CONTACT #: _____ EMAIL: _____

Tear off and send to:

NPWP @ ESU
Lucy Stanovick, Director
241 Science and Technology
East Stroudsburg, PA 18301

Phone: 570-422-3753
E-mail: Istanovick@po-box.esu.edu

check with your administrator for available federal stimulus money