Service As A Consulting Scholar and Grant Proposal Reviewer

Member and Consulting Scholar, National Advisory Board, The Quality Improvement Center on Non-resident Fathers and the Child Welfare System (2007 – 2011)

Served as a consulting scholar and member of the National Advisory Board for the Quality Improvement Center on Non-Resident Fathers and the Child Welfare System (QIC-NRF). The QIC-NRF is a collaboration of the Children's Bureau, American Humane, the American Bar Association, and the National Fatherhood Initiative to improve father participation in families through the fostering of father-oriented services to men whose children are involved in the child welfare system.

Grant Proposal Reviewer, National Fatherhood Initiative and the Office of Family Assistance at the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (2007 – Present)

Review applications for capacity-building fatherhood program grants, which are awarded by the National Fatherhood Initiative in a cooperative agreement with the Office of Family Assistance at the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

Consulting Scholar, Country Boys Initiative (2005 – 2006)

Served as a consulting scholar to the Country Boys Initiative, which was a national, community-based, consciousness-raising campaign sponsored by ITV, an affiliate of the Public Broadcasting System (PBS), to understand and help at-risk boys living in rural areas. Country Boys, a documentary associated with the initiative, was featured on Frontline, the PBS television series, and was aired on PBS stations throughout the United States.

Consulting Scholar, National Advisory Mental Health Council's Behavioral Science Workgroup, National Institutes of Mental Health, Department of Health and Human Services (1999 - 2000)

The purpose of this project was to identify non-experimental methods of investigating mental health issues. Because I have published critical reviews of research pertaining to clinical interventions with adolescent fathers, I was invited to serve as a consulting scholar to the National Advisory Mental Health Council's Behavioral Science Workgroup. In this role, I attended meetings of the workgroup and provided the workgroup materials regarding non-experimental approaches to clinical outcome research with teen fathers.

⁹I helped to start this campaign after a Nazi swastika was spray painted on the outside wall of a local synagogue. My colleagues and I organized numerous activities for this campaign, including a symposium on how to respond to hate crimes and several diversity appreciation events. As a result, the Anti-Defamation League named our initiative the model No Place for Hate Campaign in Pennsylvania.
