4) Committee reports:

- a. Executive Committee – met last week to formalize agenda.
 - Discussed free speech and need for accessible free speech information for students and ESU community. It is difficult to find the existing free speech page. There is some confusion regarding limitations on free speech. There is a need to improve visibility and clarity of language on the page for better understanding.
- b. Academic Affairs –did not meet last month:
 - Reminder about the start of Ramadan, and implications for fasting students
 - A new survey for incoming freshman and transfer students to gauge interest in general education courses. The data will assist chairs in creating schedules tailored to student interests.
- c. Rules and By-Laws – no report.
- d. Budget, Finance and Planning –
 - The tuition remission subcommittee met on 2/29. Kizzy Morris is taking the lead on the proposal.
- e. Campus Life and Inclusive Excellence Committee – Committee meeting held on January 20th with three main themes: safety, onboarding, and accessibility:
 - Discussion on the possibility of conducting background checks on incoming students, clarified that such checks are not performed due to students' minor status and sealed records.
 - Call for increased visibility of university police and safety officers around campus, particularly in residence halls, being addressed with input from the interim Chief.
 - Plan to conduct safety walks, including one specifically focused on residence halls, in the upcoming Spring semester.
 - Importance of FYE program highlighted for student onboarding, with ongoing discussions within the ESU strategic plan and Gardner retention plan.
 - Focus on supporting students with disabilities, particularly wheelchair users, during snow days; collaboration with facilities and ACEs (Accessibility and Compliance for Educational Settings) to ensure accessible pathways on campus.
- f. Research – Did not meet.
- g. University Senate Evaluation Committee–written report pending.

5) Student Government Association Report –

- The Diversity Ball and Student Organization Awards Banquet were successful events.
- Ongoing review of club budgets by Finance Chair and committee, with presentation to SGA for approval on March 21st.
