Announcements

Purple Heart Recipient Bryan Adams will Speak at ESU, 7 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 8, in the Keystone Room. He will share his emotional story, which is filled with personal and candid moments as he transitioned from life as a soldier in a combat setting to civilian life as a college student. He will address his struggles with Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD). As he shares his experiences, he hopes it will help others cope with emotional trauma and allow them to see how those challenges can result in positive change to one's everyday life afterward. For more information, contact Linda Van Meter, assistant professor of counseling and psychological services, at 570-422-3277.

Young, Black, and Gay, 7 to 10 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 8 in Lower Dansbury. Aneesah Smith and students from West Chester University will visit ESU and share their experiences being young, black, and gay at a predominately white institution while dissecting the new buzz word, intersectionality. The public is invited at no cost.
