

ESU Celebrates Women's History Month 2014

Join in on the Exciting Programs!

Week of March 24th – 31st

The Many Hats of Today's Working Women: Leadership, Drive, and the Choice to Empower

Radio Interview with Sharone Glasco, ESU Director of Workforce Development, Led by Shannon Smith and Jwana Counts: '2 Copper Coins' Radio Show Hosts

Monday,
March 24

6:15 -6:45 p.m.

WESS Radio 90.3 FM

Nobody's Perfect:

Private Screening and Q & A with Producer, Derrick Simmons

This must-see movie examines how mistaken love turns into mislaid trust, a web of deceit and domestic violence. A younger woman meets the man of her dreams, falls in love, and marries, and then her dream turns into a nightmare.

Tuesday,
March 25

7 - 9 p.m.

117 Stroud Hall

Warriors Against Sexual Violence March

Participants will march along a route where sexual violence has been reported to have occurred on campus, pinning purple ribbons at stopping points.

Sponsored by Student Senate, the ESU Feminist Alliance, Police, VOICE, and Women's Resources of Monroe County.

Tuesday,
March 25

2 – 3:30 p.m.

Begin at the Keystone Room and end at the University Circle

Daring Greatly & The Gifts of Imperfection

The themes of courage and vulnerability were the topics of a now famous talk by Dr. Brene Brown. Poignant and funny. Explore what it means to be courageous, why vulnerability is essential, and how we, too, can seek to transform the way we work, learn, play, and love. Discussion led by Quianay Bennett, Minsi Hall Director.

Tuesday,
March 25

6 p.m.

Student Senate Chamber
University Center

Why 30 is Not the New 20

Video showing of top psychologist, Dr. Meg Jay, and her notion that 20-somethings are damaging future career and relationships by passively treating the decade as 'down time' before real life begins, and believing that they have plenty of time to build their careers and find love later. Facilitated by ESU Director of Career Development, Daria Wielebinski.

Wednesday,
March 26

3 – 4 p.m.

201 Stroud Hall

Sexual Assault and What ESU Students and Others Need to Know

ESU students La Shondra Cherry and Melenie Rodriguez will interview campus constituents during their weekly radio show, "Heart to Heart"

Wednesday,
March 26 7 - 8 p.m.

WESS Radio 90.3 FM

The Invisible War

The 2012 Academy Award nominated documentary explores the hidden issues of sexual assault in the military. By focusing on women and men who have experienced sexual assault while serving their country, the film raises awareness and encourages activism. Open discussion to follow film. NOTE: Triggering scenes and discussions.

Wednesday,
March 26 7 - 9 p.m.

117 Stroud Hall

ESU's Dinner Party Plate & Placemat Making

Modeled after Judy Chicago's art piece, "The Dinner Party," where she created plates and placemats to honor remarkable women. With the help of professor Darlene Farris-LaBar and other "Dinner Party" alumni, create a plate and placemat and join in on the dinner party where creations are shared and great food, laughter and the company of fabulous women is enjoyed. *RSVP Required. $25 for faculty, staff, administrators. Free for students. To RSVP and receive more information, contact: Dr. Andrea McClanahan, Monroe Hall 301, amcclanahan@esu.edu, (570) 422-3697.

Wednesday,
March 26 4:30 - 6:30 p.m.

Art Studio: 1st Floor, Fine Arts Building

With art professor Darlene Farris-LaBar and other "Dinner Party" alumni, create a plate and placemat.

ESU's Dinner Party

Friday,
March 28 6 - 9 p.m.

Lower Lounge – Dansbury Commons

Should We "Lean In?"

A Discussion of Sheryl Sandberg's bestselling book, "Lean In: Women, Work and the Will to Lead." Book available at the University Bookstore for 20% off list price for the first two weeks of March!

Monday,
March 31 2 - 4 p.m.

Lower Lounge – Dansbury Commons

Pocono Medical Center "Spirit of Women" Program

Join for free! Pocono Medical Center is a member of Spirit of Women®, an elite coalition of American hospitals and healthcare providers of excellence in women's health, education, and community outreach. This exciting program promotes Pocono Medical Center as the regional leader in health education and community outreach for women and their families in the Pocono Area. Visit the PMC "To Your Health" Calendar for our upcoming events!

Visit the ESU Human Resources and Women's Center Web Pages

Sistah Chat Talk Radio

TM Brown, Local Author of "A Life Not My Own," Alicia Middleton, ESU Career Development Center Graduate Student Worker, and a panel of community women discuss like experiences of women...regardless of religion, socio-economic status, educational goals, and dreams... Short, sweet, and soul -nourishing with supportive 'pick-me-ups' to enable women to live fully within the divinity of their creation.

Sundays

8:00 a.m.

www.blogtalkradio.com

Women in STEM: How YOU Can Help Them Get There Webinar

Hosted by the Women's Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor and the American Association of University Women. Discussion on careers, salary and growth in Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics.

Jot Down and Visit the Website

www.youtube.com/watch?v=qEOjryjcGw4