DISABLING PRIVATE WI-FI ADDRESSING

IPHONE, IPAD, OR IPOD TOUCH:
1. Open the Settings app, then tap Wi-Fi.
2. Tap the information button next to a network.
3. Tap to turn Private Address on or off. If your device joined the network without using a private address, a privacy warning explains why.

Using a private address helps reduce tracking of your iPhone across different Wi-Fi networks.
APPLE WATCH:

1. Open the Settings app, then tap Wi-Fi.
2. Tap the name of the network you joined. If you haven't joined the network yet, swipe left on its name and tap more.

3. Tap to turn Private Address on or off.
GOOGLE PIXEL:
Open the Settings app
Select Network and Internet
Select Wi-Fi
Connect to the Wireless network in your area
Tap the gear icon next to the current connection
Select Advanced
Select Privacy
Select "Use device MAC"

SAMSUNG GALAXY:
Navigate to "Settings"
Select "Connections"
Select "Wi-Fi"

Select "ESU-WIFI" (or whatever SSID needed)

Tap the gear shaped icon next to the network you connected to
Select "Advanced"
On the next screen there is a menu labeled "MAC Address Type". Tap on "MAC Address Type"
Select "Use Phone/Device MAC"
Repeat these steps for the other wireless networks

WINDOWS:

1. Click on the Network Settings icon and select "Network Settings."
2. Select the Wi-Fi tab, and turn off "Random Hardware addresses."

- Wi-Fi
  - Wi-Fi 2
    - On
  - Show available networks
  - Hardware properties
  - Manage known networks

- Random Hardware addresses
  - Use random hardware addresses to make it harder for people to track your location when you connect to different Wi-Fi networks. This setting applies to new connections.
  - Use random hardware addresses
    - Off

- Hotspot 2.0 networks
  - Hotspot 2.0 networks make it more secure to connect to public Wi-Fi hotspots. They might be available in public places like airports, hotels, and cafes.
  - Let me use Online Sign-Up to get connected
    - On
  - When you turn this on and choose a Hotspot 2.0 network, we'll show a list of providers to choose from so you can get online.
