

Denim Day 2018

Denim Day is an international protest responding to the Italian Supreme Court overruling of a rape conviction in 1999. Although the assailant had been found guilty at trial, the Supreme Court argued that because jeans are difficult to remove, the assailant couldn't have done so without the victim's help.

To honor Denim Day, we encourage individuals to wear jeans to work or school to promote discussion of the misconceptions that surround sexual violence.
